Lyrics:

♬The worid's full of talented people
The passion is some is less than another's that balance in-equal
But you could be a rapper and be cool
You could be your singer in a band to a kid that's in pre-school
Whether you decide to be a pilot and fly private
A boxer in the ring and you fight till your eyes violet
A librarian so you like when the times silent
A voluntary worker the smile on a child's priceless
The sky has no limits
You could be an artist painting a vivid image
A nail technician booking clients for acrylics
A bartender at a nightclub pouring spirits
You could be an actor
Could be into fashion
You could be a dancer ready to make it happen
You could be going back and forth on a basketball court
Or a chef seasoning your salmon
That's talent
We are the sound of the streets
We are the voice of the youth so we shout and we scream
And we are the ones making policies
We are the scientists who create magic in the laboratories
We are the tropical spirits of the islands
We are the footballers that love striking
But we ain't representing in other ways
Like giving blood to make another see better days.♬

Only 3% of blood donors are black or asian

♬We all gotta take some time to make it right
We gotta take some time, give blood, save a life♬
