

Pine Class News

This Week...

Congratulations to Bethany on getting her 5m badge at swimming last weekend - what a fantastic achievement!

This week we have been working hard on our communication skills and sharing. We have shared our space, toys and items of interest with each other with support and have waited our turn more calmly during circle time which is brilliant progress! Sharing and waiting are things all of us find very tricky at times so staff are really proud of the students this week.

Noah worked really hard with his PECS and has been loving songs and the elephant toy this week. Whilst Riley, independently collected his PECS book to communicate to staff what he wanted - this is great to see and excellent progress in communication is being made for all our students. We are also hearing that some of our students are successfully using their communication aids to better help them outside of school too which is amazing to hear.

We all engaged well with our PE sessions this week, have followed instructions with support and really enjoyed the cool down time with the parachute. 1 group of students have worked on exploring the different vestibular options available to them whilst the other group are learning to take it in turns to complete an obstacle course. Lots of smiles and laughter during our sessions this week.

Have a great weekend! 😊

For staying at the table and the circle during group sessions with decreased adult support AND for learning how to heat up her own lunch using the microwave - super independence skills Lexi!
