

Elm Class Weekly News – 18.10.21- 22.10.21

Well, what a fantastic end to our first half term in Elm class. We have had a brilliant week of fun and learning! Here are some highlights!!

People who help us!

Amazing PE

Wonderful workers!

Learning & Playing!

REMINDERS-

Thank you so much for all the generous contributions to our Harvest Collection! Our class donation box was over flowing which is wonderful!!

Also thank you for all the money sent it towards the breast cancer awareness day!

Feel free to contact either of us on the school phone number/school email and one of us will get back to you ASAP.

The class email elm@dacorns.lancs.sch.uk please use this for correspondence to ensure neither of us miss messages and we can ensure good communication via home & school.

The children have had a super last week of term! They have done some AMAZING role play as part of our PSHE theme "People who help us" - they were being super doctors and nurses, taking care of one another and naming and matching all the equipment!

They did some wonderful engaging, listening and anticipating during our number themed attention autism session too - they loved watching the sandcastles get squished!!

As always the children continue to work very hard on their IEP targets and are making fantastic progress - handwriting and mark making are seeing real improvements even in this short time!

The children did some great work in PE this week, they are really getting used to the routines now and increasing their independence during the lesson - excellent participation! Lots of the children are making super progress with their dressing skills - we can tell you mums and dads are working on this at home too, which is even better!

Communication continues to be progressing for all the children using their preferred methods - which is wonderful to see!

This week we have also done some focus work around Harvest - we have sung songs, collected donations for our class harvest donation box and talked about saying thank you to the farmer for the lovely food we eat. The children loved exploring all the fruits and vegetables and pretending to be the farmer - taking their produce to market! They were fabulous at identifying named fruits and vegetables

They all deserve a well earned rest next week, lets hope the weather stays dry and you all manage to get some fresh air to help burn some energy!

Have a fabulous half term!

From all of the Elm Class Team 😊
