

Ash Class's Weekly News

7th Jan 2022

This Week....

Although it's been a short week what a fabulous start to the term we have had. We have kickstarted this term with our new space topic and our new class story Beegu. I will be sending out a link to the story on my YouTube channel. So this week we have started to learn the story, created moon rocks in baking, marbled some paper so we can turn them into planets, we've explored the names of the different planets in our solar system and so much more. In colour semantics we have continue to look at The Who, what doing, what is it, where and we have started to use some of the pictures from when we went to the zoo. In maths we have started to look at the part part whole method. This allows you to breakdown a big number into smaller numbers to aid in adding them together. Finally I would ask that if you have any two litre pop bottles or kitchen roll tubes please could you send them into school.

Next Week...

Any unused space toys would be greatly appreciated.

Reminders

Snack fund for next term will be £12 as it's an 6 week term This is vitally important to help support cooking, messy play and snack time.

Any unused space toys, kitchen roll tubes and 2lt pop bottles would be greatly appreciated.

And finally, the star of the week is...

Ethan. He's had a smile on his face all week and he is doing super communicating using his symbols.
