

Willow Class News

This Week...

Another week has flown by again and only one more week until half-term!

This week has been a busy one! On Wednesday we continued to learn about Alexa Meade (artist) in our Art lesson. Alexa Meade is best known for her portraits painted directly onto the human body and clothing... so that's exactly what we did! It was lots of messy, creative fun!

On Tuesday for our Geography lesson we visited local places in Preston; the lighthouse at Morrison's, a Mosque in Preston and the bridge at Preston Docks. The children enjoyed spotting the pictures on their sheets out of the bus windows.

On Thursday we all travelled back in time to the Stone Age! We all dressed up in fur and went outside to the Willow Classroom to find our afternoon snack! The children speared fish and cooked them on the fire. Dylan and Khane even found a woolly mammoth hiding in the bushes!

We even cooked sardines on the stove in class to replicate what they would have eaten in the Stone Age. Pharrell and Mohammed loved the sardines, Ethan however wasn't so keen (his face definitely said it all! ☺).

In Science this week we focused on the sense 'taste'. Everyone enjoyed trying different foods from chocolate to limes, we were all very proud. Jessica was sometimes unsure but was very brave and sampled everything, well done Jessica, you superstar!
