

Woodland Class's Weekly News

W/B 24th January 2022

It's been a busy week in school. In art, we have been making cotton wool sheep, paper plate cows and hens and pigs out of plastic cups! The farmyard is filling up!!!

We started our music therapy sessions last week. Jenny, the therapist, has been getting to know us and we will be working in smaller groups or 1-1 from next week. Jenny is with us until summer, so we are aiming for everyone to spend time with her.

We have explored lots of different objects and textures during our Little Red Hen sensory story and the Farmyard Hullabaloo story. We have enjoyed our farmyard parachute session and our weekly massage session.

Don't forget to enter our 'equality and diversity' quiz. Entries are due on 11th February. There is a food hamper and voucher up for grabs.

Next week we will be celebrating Chinese New Year, the year of the tiger!

Please continue to use lateral flow tests daily. Please continue to check your emails on any updates being sent home.

Well done to Hugo for being our star of the week. Hugo engaged throughout music therapy, vocalising and playing the drum. He chatted with Jenny consistently at the end of the session.

We used cotton wool to make sheep for our farmyard!

Enjoying music therapy.
