

What a busy week, I think the children will be ready for the weekend. This week we have enjoyed being outside in the sun shine, we have role played playing in rock pools at the seaside. We have ordered ice creams – lots of yummy flavours to choose from – excellent communication being done!! We have been working on developing our play skills – turn taking, sharing – we can really see this is having a great impact – lots of lovely playing together being seen with out the need for adult support!!

Reminders!

Don't forget to check our Evidence for learning to see how the children are doing in their learning – they are making super progress!

Rugby Tots on Monday don't forget

Please can we ask for our sensory/snack money for the children £2 per week if you haven't already sent it in. Thank you to those who have 😊

The children have been doing very well with their independent skills including – taking responsibilities – register, putting up the day of the week on our display, finding their belongings for break times/home times, feeding themselves and dressing themselves! We are very proud of how hard they are working.

We are also seeing lots of the children developing their confidence, they are playing better with the activities that are out and engaging with one another more too which is fantastic!

We have continued with our topic of the seaside and looked at lighthouses and rockpools this week. The children role played exploring the rock pools with their nets – naming creatures they found hiding. We also role played sailing in a boat and keeping a look out for land – some children were fantastic at shouting "land ahoy!" when looking through our telescope!

We did some great lighthouse painting and drawing for our display board.

In attention autism we had a really fun ice cream splat!! The children loved it and were anticipating the big 'splat' each time.

The children have been doing some super maths work too – counting, adding, recognising groups of objects lots/1/2 etc

Overall the children have worked extremely hard

We hope you all have a great weekend!

From all of the Elm Class Team 😊
