Further support

Mrs McLean is available on email at h.mclean@archbishoptemple.com for further help and advice should you require any assistance outside of school.

Fake News

It is extremely important that when viewing news that respectable and trustworthy resources are used.

For news updates websites such as

www.bbc.co.uk/news

www.theguardian.com

would be a good place to start.

It is always good to check the information on a number of sources to ensure factual representation.

Beware news on social media platforms, this is often where fake news articles surface and clicks onto them will facilitate other fake news being pushed to your stream.
