Guidance
Children and young people across the country have experienced unprecedented disruption to their education as a result of Covid-19. Those from the most vulnerable and disadvantaged backgrounds will be among those hardest hit. The aggregate impact of lost time in education is substantial, and the scale of our response must match the scale of the challenge. School's allocations will be calculated on a per pupil basis, providing each school with a total of £80 for each pupil in Reception through to Year 6. As the catch-up premium has been designed to mitigate the effects of the unique disruption caused by Covid-19, the grant will only be available for the 2020 – 2021 academic year. It will not be added to schools' baselines in calculating future years' funding allocations.
Use of funds	EEF Recommendations
School should use this funding for specific activities to support their pupils to catch up lost teaching over the previous months, in line with guidance on curriculum expectations for the next academic year. Schools should have the flexibility to spend their funding in the best way for their cohort and circumstances. To support schools make the best use of this funding, the Education Endowment Foundation (EEF) has published a Covid-10 support guide for schools with evidence-based approaches to catch for all students. School should use this document to help them direct their additional funding in the most effective way.	The EEF advises the following: Teaching and whole school strategies <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Supporting great teaching</li> <li>Pupil assessment and feedback</li> <li>Transition support</li> </ul> Targeted approaches <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1:1 and small group tuition</li> <li>Intervention programmes</li> <li>Extended school time</li> </ul> Wider strategies <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Supporting parents and carers</li> <li>Access to technology</li> <li>Summer support</li> </ul>

Identified impact of lockdown
Maths	Specific content has been missed, leading to gaps in learning. Children still have an appetite for maths but lockdown has affected their attitude in terms of resilience; they are not just simple 'behind'. Recall of basic skills has suffered. Children are not able to recall number facts, times tables and have forgotten some calculation strategies. This is reflected in arithmetic assessments.
Writing	Children have lost essential practising of writing skills. Grammar and punctuation specific knowledge have suffered, leading to a lack of fluency in writing. Those who have maintained writing through lockdown are less affected. However, those who evidently didn't write much have had to work on writing stamina and motivation due to the lack of fluency in their ability to write. As much of the writing was done online, the children's handwriting is less fluent and there was an overreliance on spell-checkers.
Reading	Children accessed reading during lockdown more than any other subject. This is something that was more accessible to families and required less teacher input. However, children are less fluent in their reading and the gap between those children that read more widely and those children who didn't, is now increasingly wide. Children have also lost comprehension skills and the ability to discuss a text. As children have more digital access, they are less likely to choose to read.
Non-core	There are now significant gaps in knowledge as whole units of work have not been taught meaning that children are less able to access pre-requisite knowledge when learning something new. Children are also less likely to make connections between concepts and themes throughout the curriculum. Children have also missed out on vital curriculum experiences e.g. trips, visitors and use of the local area. Children are less socially resilient and lack confidence in social situations.
