Ashton Community Science College

Introduction

At Ashton our strapline is – 'A school to be PROUD of'. We want to create a culture in which students and staff alike feel they belong in our community, that they dream, believe, work hard and achieve.

With this principle in mind we strongly believe that by upholding high standards of behaviour the school community can fulfil their ambitions and achieve success on many fronts. All members of the school community have the right to feel safe at all times and be able to work and relate confidently with each other. In dealing with issues of behaviour we aim to reflect and repair, supporting each other to learn from mistakes and re-establish positive relationships where they may have broken down.

Aim

This policy aims to develop a student's sense of responsibility and independence for their own actions, and to ensure that they understand the required behaviours to enable them to thrive both inside the classroom and throughout the community.

Each member of staff has responsibility for upholding standards of behaviour in school, both within their classroom and around the school site, as well as implementing this policy both fairly and consistently.

The policy aims to define what we consider to be unacceptable behaviour, including bullying and discrimination, although these examples are not exhaustive. It:

- Outlines how students are expected to behave
- Summarises the roles and responsibilities of different people in the school community with regards to behaviour management
- Outlines our system of rewards and sanctions

Our Principles

In order to enable effective teaching and learning to take place, good behaviour in all aspects of school life is necessary. We seek to create a caring, learning environment in the school by promoting good behaviour and discipline. We share this with the students through our use of our Ashton strapline – 'A school to be PROUD of'. This is there to help remind us of some of the basic things every student must get right to be part of our school community:

Punctual – be on time for school and for each lesson, missed learning takes you further from success.

Responsible – take ownership of your behaviour and accept the consequences of everything you do.

Organised – learn to manage your time, equipment, workload and resources. It is your job, no-one else's.

Uniform – your uniform shows you belong to the Ashton family – wear it smartly and with pride.

Determined – commit to achieving your very best, be prepared to struggle and to fail on the road to success.

Roles and Responsibilities

The school is aware that in order facilitate high standards of teaching and learning and therefore excellent student outcomes there must be high standards of behaviour at all times. Behaviour management is a matter that concerns and involves all members of the school community.

5. Monitor the implementation of the policy

The home school agreement highlights many of the core responsibilities found above.

Classroom and Corridor Routines

One key way to establishing and maintaining a culture of excellent behaviour is through ensuring there are routines that teach students the correct way to behave. These routines are to be followed at all times by staff to ensure consistency of practice and to support students in managing their behaviour and enhance their learning. These routines must not be changed in any way for any class at any time

Classroom routines

At the start of every lesson the routines are as follows and staff will:

- Greet students at the door appropriately ("good morning" / "good afternoon")
- Ensure students enter immediately in an orderly manner.
- Ensure students place equipment packs on desk.
- Ensure bags and coats are be packed away under the desk/on the chair back.
- Complete the starter task in silence.
- Take register with class remaining silent unless answering to their name
- Call out every student's name and expect the response to be 'Yes Miss/Sir' (or as instructed).

During every lesson the expectations from students are as follows:

- Students will respond to greetings from the staff member/s upon arrival to the lesson
- Follow all instructions from all adults in the classroom at all times
- Students will speak to peers and adults in a pleasant and polite manner
- Students will actively engage in the learning experience, complete all work to the best of their ability
- Students will ask for help by putting up their hand to attract a teacher's attention
- Students will treat all members of the class with dignity and respect

At the end of every lesson the routines are as follows and teachers must ensure:

- Students pack away when they are told to by the teacher and not until then.
- Students remain seated until the teacher asks them to stand behind their chairs
- Students will stand behind their seats in silence unless they are responding to a teacher's question
- Students will be dismissed by the teacher
- The teacher will stand at the door to control the exit of students from the room and to monitor movement and behaviour on the corridor

Corridor Rules and Routines

Around the school, staff will monitor behaviour, encourage and expect students to:

- Walk on the left-hand side of the corridor and in single file
- Walk in a calm and orderly manner (no running, shouting etc.)
- Take the quickest route to the next classroom and arrive promptly to lessons.
- Use the correct staircases and remain in designated areas
- Always wear full school uniform

The Ashton Way - Positive Behaviour Curriculum

At Ashton, we recognise the different starting points that all of our students have in relation to their understanding of what constitutes positive behaviour and why it is needed. To ensure that all of our students have the chance to grasp all of life's opportunities we see behaviour as a curriculum.

'The Ashton Way' is our behaviour curriculum and is the responsibility of all staff; by teaching students positive learning behaviours and managing negative behaviour in a constructive manner we aim to provide 'Consistency and Certainty'.

It is not enough for us as educators to merely outline a list of prohibited behaviours. To give our students the best opportunity to fulfil their potential, we must teach them that positive behaviour is so much more than the just the absence of negative behaviour.

Through encouraging positive behaviour patterns we can promote good relationships throughout the school community built on trust and understanding. We believe that as students practise these behaviours, over time they become habits that positively shape how they feel about themselves and how other people perceive them. As philosopher Paul Durant states "We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit." (1926)

"The Ashton Way"

being on time for school and for each lesson takes you closer to success.

learning to manage our time, equipment, workload and resources allows us to assign energy to other important elements of learning.
- Wear the Uniform with pride because... it shows we belong to the Ashton Family.
- Be Determined because ...
learning is hard. We must commit to achieving our very best and be prepared to struggle and even fail on the road to success.

 - Upon entering we:
 - Place coats on the back of chairs and bags on the floor

 - No distractions
 - Independent Practice
 Because it builds resilience and proves what we are capable of achieving in ideal learning conditions.

Sanctions

Sanctions will be given when a student's behaviour is unacceptable / inappropriate, in order to help them to develop a sense of right and wrong. A range of sanctions are clearly defined in the procedures and their use will be characterised by clarity of why the sanction is being applied and what changes in behaviour are required to avoid future sanctions. The procedures make a clear distinction between the sanctions applied for minor and major offences.

The school will implement a range of strategies to deal with inappropriate behaviour by students including:

- Talking 'privately' with the student
- Verbal reprimand – spoken in an assertive way if necessary but not shouted.
- Time out to another classroom
- Use of the detention system
- Report Cards
- Withdrawal of school privileges
- Letters to parents/carers
- Meetings with parents/carers
- Referral to external agencies

- Referral to The ARC
- Referral to other school's alternative provisions if deemed necessary
- Suspensions or permanent exclusion

Support

The school will review the support available to individual students who may be at risk of disaffection, disengagement or exclusion, including the development and provision of:

- Learning support programmes
- Mentoring programmes, including both one to one and group work
- Individual Behaviour Plans (IBPs)
- Pastoral Support Plans (PSPs)
- Additional curriculum resources
- Different teaching strategies
- Study support or alternative curriculum provision
- Counselling referral

Early intervention

The school will involve external agencies where it is appropriate to do so, for the purposes of student education and guidance.

- The school liaises with a range of external and professional bodies as appropriate, including the Local Authority, health and social services, police, voluntary sector and religious bodies, and Children's Services.

Dealing with disruptive behaviour in the classroom

Definition of disruption: "Disruptive behaviour is anything students do that causes the teacher to stop teaching the lesson"

- Examples but not an exhaustive list are: Talking when the teacher is talking, or another child is responding to a question from the teacher, eating/chewing/drinking, swinging on chairs, shouting out, general disruption to learning, distracting others.

Teachers have a wide range of non-verbal cues they can use to correct a student's behaviour before they deem it necessary to hand out a verbal warning. However, the use of these does not make disruption acceptable and a teacher may choose to limit the number they use. That is entirely at their professional discretion.

If disruption occurs in a lesson a teacher will issue a:

1. REMINDER to ALL students:
 - On the first incident of disruptive behaviour ALL students will be reminded that disruption to lessons is unacceptable
For example; "I have stopped my teaching because..... I am reminding you that this is unacceptable"
2. WARNING to ALL students:
 - On the second incident of disruption ALL students are issued a warning
For example; "This is the second time I have stopped my teaching, you are all warned any student that disrupts from now will receive a consequence for their actions"
3. CONSEQUENCE to the student(s) that continue to disrupt:

- The next student(s) to disrupt are issued with a 20-minute detention during lunch on the same day for incidents of disruption during Periods 1-4 and the next day for incidents of disruption period 5.

For example; "You have disrupted my lesson despite the reminders and warnings, your consequence is a C3 - 20-minute lunch time detention".

- It is the responsibility of the student to report to the detention room on the day the detention is issued. Students who fail to attend the detention without discussion or permission from a member of staff will have further sanctions, including being isolated for the day, time in the ARC or suspension applied.

4. REMOVE student from lesson via the "B4L" system. If the same or any other student further disrupts the lesson:

- The teacher to make a request for B4L.
- The student will be removed from lessons and placed in a different classroom. Parents will be contacted via Synergy. In some cases, students may continue to learn in isolation pending a meeting with parents. The minimum of a whole lunch time detention will be issued.

Dealing with Disruptive Behaviour on The Corridor

Definition of disruptive behaviour outside of lesson times:

"Disruptive behaviour is anything students do that does not follow the corridor and school rules or instructions given to them by adults"

When disruption occurs on a corridor (break, lunch, lesson change-overs etc) Staff are required to:

1. Issue a REMINDER to individual or group of students:
 - "Your behaviour on this corridor/library/yard/classroom etc is unacceptable, I would like you to stop and follow my instruction to"
2. Issue a WARNING to individual or group of students:
 - "This is the second time I have instructed you to, you are / you all are warned any student that does not follow this instruction will be issued with a consequence for their behaviour
3. Issue a CONSEQUENCE to individual or group that continue to disrupt:
 - "You have not followed my instructions despite the reminders and warnings, your consequence is a 20 minute detention"
 - Any individual or group of students that are not following instructions will ALL be issued with a detention
 - If students remain in a group and anyone of that group argues, they will all get a sanction - this is to encourage students to walk away from disruptive behaviour
4. REMOVE student via "B4L" system:
 - The teacher makes a request for SLT or pastoral support
 - The student will be removed from the area and parents will be contacted. In some cases, students may continue to learn in isolation pending a meeting with parents.

Non-Negotiable behaviours

Non-Negotiable behaviours are those in which all students must abide by, and staff are not going to negotiate or discuss with students who are not following these expectations. These include the following behaviours:

- Wearing the Uniform with Pride
- Removing outside clothing when inside the building
- Having the correct equipment to learn
- Switching off mobile devices – they should not be seen or heard
- Chewing/Eating – in lessons or on the corridors is not permitted
- Being in possession of fizzy drinks
- Drawing on hands or body

All of these behaviours are easily rectified and so a short detention will be given. If a student chooses not to rectify the issue, then this will lead to greater sanctions.

Mobile Phones

If a mobile phone is regularly being seen or heard it is up to the discretion of a member of the year team or SLT to request a parent collect it from school.

Detentions

The school uses break time, lunch time and after school detentions as a form of sanction for students who fail to comply with expectations and rules. Detentions can be issued by teachers and the law states parental consent is not required when issuing a detention. However, the school will endeavour to notify parents by text message for after school detentions longer than 20 minutes. The following detentions are currently being used:

Curriculum Detentions

Type of Detention	Examples include but not limited to	Consequence	Outcome	Failure
Class Teacher	• Not working to ability • Lack of homework • Inappropriate behaviour	A break, lunch or after school detention.	Student resolves the issue raised.	Head of Department Detention

Whole School Detentions:

Type of Detention	Examples include but not limited to	Consequence	Outcome	Failure
Late Detention	• Late to school before reg closes • Late to lesson	Break Detention	Student loses 10 mins of break time	Lunch detention
Late detention after reg closed	• Arrived after 9.15am	Attendance team detention / Year team detention	Student receives a 30 minute after school detention. The student completes the missed learning. The Year Team could also impose supervised breaks and lunches.	Reset before ARC

Serious Incident	• Serious or repeated misbehaviour	Time in ARC or suspension or Perm Ex	8:40 – 16:00 Student works in ARC. Breaks and lunches are supervised, and students are provided work.	Suspension

During break and lunch time detentions, staff must allow reasonable time for students to be able to visit the toilet and eat their lunch. If a student's detention is for the full lunch time, the student will be supervised getting lunch from the canteen, eating it and attending the toilet.

Issuing a Behaviour Detention

- The detention issued for unacceptable behaviour needs to be logged by the member of staff as soon as possible to allow parents to be informed by School Synergy.
- Detentions issued during the school day that are set prior to break or lunch will be served on the same day.
- Detentions issued after lunch will be deferred to the following school day.
- All after-school detentions will be scheduled in advance and communicated accordingly.

Notifying Students

- Staff should verbally inform the student that they have received a sanction.
- Students will also be able to see all sanctions on their Synergy. They can access this in school by logging onto a PC or at home each evening via their personal device.
- At the start of each lesson, staff should remind students who appear on their register to attend the detention. This may mean a student receives up to 5 reminders in any 1 day.

During the Whole School Detention

- All members of designated staff will be present in the detention room at the start of the detention.
- Students will report to the designated detention room and be seated by staff.
- Students will sit in silence.
- Students will complete reflective work during their detention or any other learning task as deemed suitable by the lead teacher.
- When a student has been removed from a classroom, it is considered good practice to provide the student with an opportunity to reflect on their behaviour and engage in a restorative conversation with the class teacher. This conversation should aim to repair relationships, promote mutual understanding, and support a positive return to the learning environment.
- It is recognised that these may not always be possible during the detention period or prior to the next scheduled lesson. In such cases, efforts should be made to facilitate the conversation at the earliest appropriate opportunity, with support from a member of the Year Team to ensure a constructive and restorative approach is taken.
- Failure to engage in the restorative conversation may result in extended sanctions.

Escalating Detentions

- Should a student not attend a detention without a valid reason, it will escalate upwards.
- If a student misses a whole school lunch or after school detention without prior reason being provided, this will result in time spent in the ARC.
- Should a student be removed from two lessons in a week, the student will automatically be isolated for the remainder of the day and spend time in the ARC.

Behaviour Management

Students who are regularly removed via B4L for behaviour which disrupts teaching and so disrupts learning will face further sanctions which could include a period of time in The ARC, suspension or even permanent exclusion

As a last resort, to supplement normal disciplinary procedures in the school and where behaviour disrupts the teaching of a lesson students may be removed instantly by B4L and a referral to SLT without first issuing class warnings. This would usually be where health and safety of members of the school community is compromised or a member of the school community needs support instantly.

For instances of serious misbehaviour, the sanction of placement in the school's behaviour unit – The ARC, or a direction order to an off site behaviour provision in another school for a fixed period of time or a formal, legally binding suspension or permanent exclusion from school will be issued.

Examples of serious misbehaviour can be seen below. Please note this is not an exhaustive list:

- Repeated breaches of the school rules
- Any form of bullying (Further information can be found in the school's Addressing Bullying Policy.)
- Sexual violence or sexual assault (intentional sexual touching without consent)
- Sexual harassment, meaning unwanted conduct of a sexual nature, such as:
 - Sexual comments
 - Sexual jokes or taunting
 - Physical behaviour like interfering with clothes
 - Online sexual harassment such as unwanted sexual comments and messages (including on social media), sharing of nude or semi-nude images and/or videos, or sharing of unwanted explicit content
- Vandalism
- Theft
- Truancy
- Fighting
- Smoking
- Racist, sexist, homophobic or discriminatory behaviour
- Possession of any prohibited items. This list is not exhaustive, but examples include:
 - Knives or weapons
 - Alcohol
 - Illegal drugs and paraphernalia
 - Vape pens and paraphernalia
 - Stolen items
 - Tobacco and cigarette papers
 - Fireworks
 - Pornographic images
 - Any article a staff member reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used to commit an offence, or to cause personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the student)

Searching and Confiscation

Searching and confiscation should be read in conjunction with the Personal Searching Policy.

Searching

If a staff member believes a student is in possession of a prohibited item, they have a duty of care to have the student searched and they would be deemed to be failing in their duty if they did not take the appropriate action.

Confiscation

Prohibited items found in a student's possession can be confiscated, retained or disposed of where reasonable to do so. The student will receive a sanction in line with the School's Behaviour Policy.

Physical Use of Reasonable Force

In July 2013, the government published a revised version of 'Use of Reasonable Force'. It indicates that all members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force and the decision on whether or not to physically intervene is down to the professional judgement of the staff member concerned and should always depend on the individual circumstances. The guidance is clear that any member of staff may use 'reasonable force' to physically restrain a student. Reasonable force should be used judiciously, for example when it is to prevent a student harming themselves or others.

Isolation

In the event that a student's behaviour constitutes a serious incident, they may be isolated for the remainder of the school day in a designated area, such as the rear of a classroom or a staff member's office. During this period, the student is required to hand their mobile phone to the designated on-call staff member managing the incident. The device will be securely held and made available for collection by the student from Student Reception at the end of the school day. Students placed in isolation will be provided with appropriate and purposeful learning materials to ensure the continuity of their education during this period.

Where appropriate, a student may be placed in classroom isolation as an alternative to the ARC for a full day. This decision will be made based on the nature of the behaviour, the context of the incident, who else is involved, and in line with the school's graduated response framework.

The ARC

The ARC is a behaviour reflection room. ARC is an acronym and stands for Accept, Reflect, Change. The ARC is used to avoid a suspension from school. Students will be placed in The ARC for instances of serious misbehaviour, some of which are listed above. A member of Senior Staff of the Behaviour Manager will make the decision on whether a student is being placed in The ARC and parents will be invited into meet with a member of the Year Team and/or the Senior Leadership Team. This meeting should take place as soon as is possible.

The school day in The ARC runs from 8:40-16:00.

Behaviour Manager Responsibilities

- Gather and collate work for the student
- Provide students with adequate reflection tasks to allow them to think deeply about their behaviour
- Provide prompt and high-level support to staff requesting it
- Keep SLT informed about student behaviour
- Co-ordinate time out of the room for pupils to discuss their reflective work with a member of the behaviour team
- Inform staff of hotspot lessons for pupils that regularly enter the ARC
- Keep accurate records of the students entering the ARC and report these to all relevant staff.

Expectations for students in the ARC

- The Proud ethos and Ashton Way classroom expectations apply at all times
- Students will not put their heads on the desk. They will sit up straight at all times
- Students will complete all academic work to the best of their ability
- Students will complete reflective work and engage in a reflective conversation
- Students will raise their hands to speak/ask questions
- Students will follow all instructions given to them

Behaviour Management procedures for The ARC

If students are not following the rules for the room the usual non-verbal cues must be used at first. The following procedures are applied, depending on the behaviour, this can be either to individuals OR the whole room:

1. REMINDER to the student(s) are reminded that their behaviour is unacceptable. For example; "you are not following the rules of The ARC, because you have/are..... I am reminding you this is unacceptable"
2. WARNING to the student(s) about their behaviour. For example; "this is the second time, I am asking you to stop....., you are warned that any further continuation of this behaviour will result in a consequence.
3. CONSEQUENCE for the student(s)
 - At this point the member of staff will ring for the member of SLT Support (or in their absence another member of the SLT Team) for support.
 - A member of staff will remove the student and escort to the relevant person.

The student will be spoken to and they will be given the choice to:

- Return to the ARC and complete their work or they will be issued a suspension from school and then will recomplete the full day in ARC upon their return.
- Students will be informed that if they refuse to complete the ARC day, any absences will be unauthorised and they will then be subject to attendance monitoring procedures.
- Students will be given a "time-out" to make their choice.
- Depending on their choice, the student may be returned for the next lesson or sent home with a suspension.

Where a student has repeatedly attended the ARC and continues to engage in behaviours that do not align with the school's Behaviour Policy, a fixed-term suspension will be issued in place of further ARC placements. Subsequent incidents of negative behaviour will result in the same consequence, reflecting a graduated response to persistent misconduct.

Suspension

- A formal suspension may be issued for persistent breaches of the Behaviour Code as noted above or for an offence deemed too serious to be dealt with through The ARC.
- Failure to adhere to the expected standards of behaviour within The ARC, may result in suspension.
- Suspension is a legal process and so any decision to formally exclude a student is always a last resort and will always be made making 'reasonable adjustment' for any relevant circumstances.
- The length of any suspension will be determined by the seriousness of the offence and the surrounding circumstances with each case taken on merit. However, in the case of repeated similar offences the length of suspension could increase incrementally with each subsequent offence.
- All suspensions will involve a reintegration meeting with parents/carers and the student present. When the student has successfully completed the reintegration meeting, they will spend one day in the ARC prior to them being readmitted to normal lessons. Where possible the reintegration meeting with parent/carers will be made in the morning of the day of returning from the suspension, if a parent/carer cannot attend, the student will be placed in ARC until the reintegration meeting takes place.

Permanent Exclusion

In line with the Department for Education Statutory Guidance - August 2024, the decision to permanently exclude a student will only be taken:

- in response to a serious breach or persistent breaches of the school's behaviour policy; and
- where allowing a student to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the student or others in the school.

Staff members should refrain from telling a student they will be placed in The ARC, suspended or permanently excluded. This decision rests with a member of SLT. Suspension and exclusion are legal states and cannot be entered into lightly.

Monitoring Arrangements

The Senior Leadership Team, in consultation with staff, will undertake systematic monitoring and conduct regular reviews of the behaviour management policy and procedures in order to evaluate them to ensure that the operation is effective, fair and consistent. The Deputy Headteacher Pastoral will keep the Governing Body informed of student's behaviour and discuss the effectiveness of this policy. The Governing Body will regularly review this policy and associated procedures, to ensure its continuing appropriateness and effectiveness.
