Covid Update

Further to the recent Government announcement postponing the final lifting of the Covid restrictions for up to four weeks, it would seem we will have to wait a little longer for the social distancing requirements to be removed. Unfortunately, this is against a background of increasing infections once again. I would, therefore, ask that you persevere for a little while longer with the measures we have in place for the secure celebration of Mass, in particular, co-operating with our stewards in the arrangements for seating, not returning to your seats after receiving Holy Communion, and taking your Mass leaflets away with you. Many thanks.
