

Understanding Asperger Syndrome

Books:

Non-fiction for children and teenagers

- Hall, Kenneth (2001) "Asperger Syndrome, the Universe and Everything". London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers.
- Jackson, Luke (2002) "Freaks, geeks and Asperger syndrome: A User Guide to Adolescence " London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers

Both of these books are written by boys with AS, and tell you what it's like from the inside.

- Faherty, Catherine (200) "Asperger's: what Does It Mean to Me?" Arlington, TX: Future Horizons.

A work book for children with AS, teaching self-awareness and life lessons, along with structured teaching ideas for home and school.

Fiction for Children

Kathy Hoopmann has written a number of books for children which feature children with AS as the heroes. These include:

- Hoopmann, Kathy (2000) "Blue Bottle Mystery: An Asperger Adventure" London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers.
- Hoopmann, Kathy (2002) "Lisa and the Lacemaker: An Asperger Adventure" London: Jessica Kingsley Publishers
