

The Sunflower Lanyard Scheme.

Some people with hidden disabilities, such as autism, MS and hearing loss, might need help while in-store.

If you need any assistance during your visit, ask one of our colleagues who will be happy to help.

Every little helps

Here for you if you need a little extra help during your visit.

If you have a hidden disability and would appreciate a little extra help while shopping, wearing the sunflower lanyard will help our colleagues identify that you are open to offers of help.

To find out more, speak to one of our colleagues or look online at tesco.com/help/invisibledisability
