25.09.2020

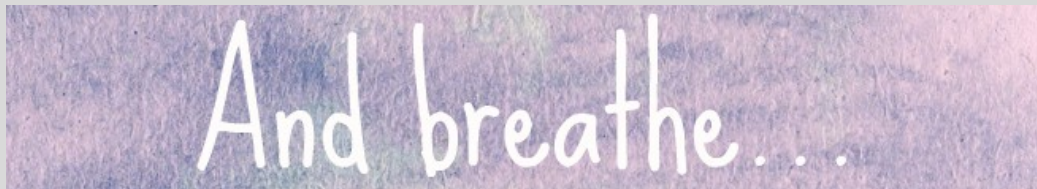

2020 and beyond..

Despite the restrictions in place there's still lots of opportunities on offer to help you make an informed choice on the next step in your academic career.

This weeks bulletin includes a page on apprenticeship links. If you don't think University is for you then maybe an apprenticeship is the answer. Whatever your next step is we are here to help. Any questions come and see us in the Sixth Form Office.

The Sixth Form Team

We all know the steps we should take to protect our physical health. Practising social distancing. Washing hands regularly. Wearing a face-mask.

But your mental wellbeing is just as important as your physical health. Follow these 5 steps to keep your mind healthy.

- 1. Get into a daily routine - Knowing that you have set tasks each day, can help you regain a sense of normality during an abnormal time.
- 2. Start a thought journal - A journal is not a diary. Instead it's a tool to help you process the thoughts circulating your mind and connect these to your emotions and health.
- 3. Limit time spent watching news - Keeping up-to-date with what's happening in the world is important but excessively consuming the wrong type of news can lead to worry, anxiety and stress.
- 4. Stay connected to friends and family - We deal better with stress when we work together. Modern tech lets us stay connected remotely with our friends and loved ones.
- 5. Focus on value activities - A value activity is anything that benefits you ...

- Exercise stimulates the release of cortisol, a chemical that helps to manage stress
- Cleaning for just 10-15 minutes can give you a sense of control over your environment.
- Hobbies are a simple way to improve your mental health.

The programme was established in 2006 by the Sutton Trust and the Legal Education Foundation, with generous support from our partner law firms and is the largest initiative of its nature.
