

Collective prayer - February 23rd

Jesus,

You give wisdom and guidance to Your children because You delight in giving good gifts from above. Father, give me direction. I pray against stress or trying to control outcomes. Rather, let me seek to obey Your commands and make my choices conform with heavenly wisdom. Above all, teach me to trust that You are the one ultimately in control.

Amen.

Let us then approach God's throne of Grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.
