The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `my.dynamic-learning.co.uk/MyDynamicLearning.aspx`. The page title is "My latest work" and it indicates "Time in Dynamic Learning: 0 hours and 3 minutes". The page is divided into three main sections:

- Lessons: "Latest lessons" section with the message "No lessons have been assigned to you." and a "View all lessons" link.
- To do list: "Recently-assigned items" section with the message "You have not been assigned any items."
- How am I doing?: "How am I doing?" section with the message "You have not completed any items." and a "View my reports" link.

Scroll to the following part of the page

The screenshot shows the "My Dynamic Learning" interface. The main heading is "My Dynamic Learning" and the current subject is "Business and Accounting". The page lists two course packages:

- A level Business Package: Includes a "Magazine Archives" section with a "Business Review Magazine Archive" banner and a right-pointing arrow.
- AQA A Level Business (Wolinski & Coates): Includes a "Magazine Archives" section with a "Business Review Magazine Archive" banner and a right-pointing arrow.

Click on the first Business Review Magazine Archive banner, this will then take you to the following page.

The archive is divided into volumes, one for each year. In each volume there are four issues (magazines). Simply select a volume and then an issue. You will then see a screen like the one below with the articles listed on the left and the current article in miniature on the right. Simply select the article from the left hand side and then click on the pages on the right hand side to view the article (zoom in and out as required). Note: your computer will need 'Flash' enabled to view.
