

Gateway Gossip

13th November 2020

Dear all,

Gateway Academy has been a very busy place this week !

On Wednesday we acknowledged the importance of Remembrance Day .
On Wednesday evening we undertook our first Covid Parents' Evening by phone. It was different and I missed seeing so many of you that we would normally welcome into school but it went well and teachers were able to communicate the great work the children are doing and any pointers to help with their development.

On Friday 13th November we held a ceremony for the many positions of importance in Year 6 and it was my pleasure to welcome the new Head Boy, Lincon and Head Girl Darcy. Well done to you both and all the other children selected for a post. I really look forward to the difference you will help make around school for the whole Gateway family.

Just to let you know, the traffic wardens and police, are visiting the school entry points for illegal parking due to residents being unhappy about a lack of respect to their property and danger with cars turning around. Please help in being kind and understanding whilst waiting for access to the playground and let's all work together to make the hard times a little bit easier.

Please stay safe and keep following the rules and help all children understand why this is so important. We have been extremely lucky to have no Bubble closures so far . Thank you for your help to date. We need to all work together to maintain our safety and you have all been amazing so far .Great Gateway community spirit and I am very proud so thanks again. Thank you all for your continued support, I hope you all remain safe and well and have a relaxing weekend.

Take good care.
Mrs Robinson

A DAY TO REMEMBER!

Sergeant Jonathan Snelling who has been in the Royal Air Force for the last 20 years, "visited" the Seymour Road school for a question and answers session - via Zoom. The unusual link-up was organised by his brother and year five teacher Mr Snelling who also made tours of Iraq during his time in the RAF. The children had some interesting questions and participated in a variety of activities throughout the day.
