Card Factory Sales assistant

Poulton-le-Fylde

Retail experience is not a necessity when beginning your Card Factory story. We look for personality and a passion for customer service above all else!

We want to support a work/life balance, therefore don't worry if you're not available all hours of the day – just tell us via the application form when you are available to work!

Career in accountancy

Everything you need to know about a career in accountancy
There are five main areas in accountancy fast emerging:

Assurance advocate: Risk is a big challenge for organisations in today's fast-changing world. Accountants can use technology to help lower that risk, keeping businesses safe from financial shocks.

Business transformer: The world is changing all the time. Accountants can help organisations adapt to new technologies and the evolving business landscape.

Data navigator: 'Data' is the numbers and statistics that organisations use to track how they're performing. Accountants can help make sense of this information so leaders can make smart decisions for the future.

Digital playmaker: We all know that new technology is changing the world around us. From robots to AI, accountants look out for new tools that can help organisations succeed, and persuade leaders to take on the latest tech.

Sustainability trailblazer: As we work to tackle climate change, organisations need to do more with less. Accountants can help businesses figure out which sustainable activities are bringing the biggest business benefits.
