'Demon Dentist' by David Walliams at the Manchester Opera House, 'The Lion King' at the Palace Theatre and 'A Christmas Carol' at Bolton Octagon Theatre.

Purple Room

We celebrated Halloween by carving pumpkins, playing bob apple and making lanterns.

We have been looking at the topic of Rivers and Mountains and have created some lovely art work alongside our English information texts and Geography work.

Computing Trip -

The whole centre has visited the Schools ICT centre to do some work on STEM. We have created Lego models that had to be programmed to move and we have used computer programmes to make our own games.

Yellow Room

This term the Yellow Room have been working on Europe and the countries within Europe. They looked at different skills such as using subordination and coordination to create complex or compound sentences. They also did lots of research about their chosen country and found out the population, special feature, climate and other key information. Once they gathered all this information they created a Non-Chronological Fact File which is proudly displayed on the boards in the corridor.

The second half of the term has been based on Roald Dahl's - The Twits. The Yellow Room looked at the way Roald Dahl described his characters and then created character descriptions for both Mr and Mrs Twit. The children then had to plan out and write a chapter thinking about the title for it. They used the same planning method that Mr Dahl used himself!

Turquoise Room

Over the past few weeks, Turquoise room have been enjoying working with the Lego education kits to follow instructions to build motorised Lego models. Once they were built, we connected them to the computers and used computer coding to explore the different ways that we could make the models move in and at different speeds.

The Bridge

Angel Festival Fun

The children at The Bridge and Forwards Centre entered the competition at St James' Church, Breightmet to make an angel out of different materials. We are pleased to announce that their fantastic piece of artwork won! Well Done to everyone involved.
