Our Attendance Target is: 96%

Attendance this week is: 93.9%

As we come to the end of an extremely busy half term, we couldn't be prouder of our Bradfield team.

Our Year 11 pupils have been working incredibly hard and are truly rising to the challenge of their exams. Every single student has engaged enthusiastically in The Big Debate, and a wide range of trips and extracurricular activities have taken place across the school.

Bradfield continues to go from strength to strength. Behaviour has improved significantly, and we are proud to report that we now have one of the most improved suspension rates in the city—an incredible achievement given that we had one of the highest rates of suspension at this point last year. Attendance is also rapidly increasing, and our performance data is showing positive upward trends across the board.

This progress is the result of a true team effort. Every member of staff has worked tirelessly to drive improvement, and we are deeply grateful for your continued support in encouraging your child to make the most of the exceptional opportunities now available at Bradfield.

We stand by our vision that success is not solely defined by academic results. At Bradfield, we strive to shape pupils into compassionate, resilient leaders who are organised, proactive, and ready to make a positive impact on the world. This is evidenced by the vast number of positive postcards that staff send out to pupils every single day. We want every student to look back on their school years as a time of personal growth, discovery, happiness, and excitement. We hope you can see how hard we are working to make this vision a reality.

We would welcome feedback from our parents so we can further improve next half term, please take the time to complete our quick parent survey here.

Wishing all our parents, carers, and pupils a restful and enjoyable half term break.

Warm regards,

Anna Hughes
