Subject: Year 11 Exam Leave

5th June 2025

Dear Parents/Carers,

As most final exams have now taken place, we feel it is the right time to begin study leave for the remainder of the exam season. Pupils have made excellent use of the additional support sessions this week, and we appreciate your support in keeping them in school during this time.

From Monday 9th June, Year 11 pupils are not required to attend school unless they have an exam. However, all timetabled lessons will continue to run, and staff will be available to support students. Pupils are welcome to attend school for additional revision or support if they wish. Pre-exam revision sessions will also continue as planned and we strongly encourage attendance to these.

We look forward to celebrating with Year 11 on their Leavers' Day on Thursday 19th June which they are welcome to attend in fancy dress. The morning will include a football match and a final assembly to mark their time at Bradfield. Pupils can remain on site until 11.15am. We would appreciate you talking to your child about the importance of excellent behaviour on this morning - anyone disturbing lessons will unfortunately be asked to leave early.

We are incredibly proud of this year group—their dedication to learning and their resilience throughout a period of significant change. As the 'Year 6 Covid cohort', they have faced unique challenges, and we are committed to making their final day a memorable one.

Kind regards,

Anna Hughes
