

Vocabulary
symbol	an image that represents a real world feature on a map aerial photograph	an aerial photograph is a photograph taken from above.
recycling	turning waste products into useable materials so they can be used again litter	waste products that have not been put in the correct places local	existing in or belonging to the area where you live fly tipping	when people leave large amounts of rubbish in public spaces

Key Knowledge
A recycling centre is a place where recyclable materials are sorted ready for recycling Blue bins are for paper
Brown bins for garden and food waste Green bins for non-recyclable general waste Black bins for mixed recycling of plastic and glass
At the recycling centre magnets are used to separate the steel cans. At the recycling centre glass bottles and jars are cleaned using cyclones. At the recycling centre plastic bottles are sorted using a machine which shreds and cleans them.

