Phonics

Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised

Our school has chosen Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised as our systematic, synthetic phonics (SSP) programme to teach early reading and spelling.

Phonics is:

making connections between the sounds of our spoken words and the letters that are used to write them down.

Little Wandle Letters and Sounds Revised 2021: Programme progression

Reception and Year 1 overviews

This programme overview shows the progression of GPCs and tricky words that we teach term-by-term. The progression has been organised so that children are taught from the simple to more complex GPCs, as well as taking into account the frequency of their occurrence in the most commonly encountered words. All the graphemes taught are practised in words, sentences, and later on, in fully decodable books. Children review and revise GPCs and words, daily, weekly and across terms and years, in order to move this knowledge into their long term memory.

Children need to learn to read as quickly as reasonably possible, so they can move from learning to read, to reading to learn, giving them access to the treasure house of reading. Our expectations of progression are aspirational yet achievable if schools maintain pace, practice and participation by all children. Children who are not keeping-up with their peers should be given additional practice immediately through keep-up sessions.

Reading a book at the right level

This means that your child should:

- Know all the sounds and tricky words in their phonics book well
- Read many of the words by silent blending (in their head) – their reading will be automatic
- Only need to stop and sound out about 5% of the words by the time they bring the book home – but they should be able to do this on their own.

Reading at home

Books going home

How do we teach reading in books?

- Children will bring home two phonetically decodable books each week, matched to their phonics level. These are books for your children to read to you at home.
- They will also borrow a class library book. These are books for you to share with your children, as the books aren't phonetically decodable.
- Children will read daily in phonics lessons as well as being read with individually throughout the week, with a view to reading in small groups later in the year.
- Any children needing further reading practise will be given additional support.

Listening to your child read their phonics book

- Your child should be able to read their book without your help.
- If they can't read a word read it to them.
- Talk about the book and celebrate their success.
- Listening to your child read their phonics book will help them to consolidate their phonics skills.

Read to your child

The shared book is for YOU to read:

- Make the story sound as exciting as you can by changing your voice.
- Talk with your child as much as you can:
 - Introduce new and exciting language
 - Encourage your child to use new vocabulary
 - Make up sentences together
 - Find different words to use
 - Describe things you see.
 - There are questions in the front of your child's reading record to support comprehension.
- If you'd like additional inspiration when reading at home, please speak with a member of the Reception team.
- Making time to read is vital, but we understand that families are busy. Please approach us if you're finding things challenging at home, and we'll support as much as we can.

The most important thing you can do is read with your child

Reading a book and chatting had a positive impact a year later on children's ability to...

- understand words and sentences
- use a wide range of vocabulary
- develop listening comprehension skills.

The amount of books children were exposed to by age 6 was a positive predictor of their reading ability two years later.

Reading at home is crucial for many reasons, including (but certainly not limited to) building positive relationships with family members, vocabulary enrichment, listening and attention skills, igniting imaginations, and fostering a love of reading and learning.

Parent Resources

Please see the parents' section on the Little Wandle website for downloadable resources which you can use to support your child at home:

<https://www.littlewandlelettersandsounds.org.uk/resources/for-parents/>

You may like to make flashcards to play reading games with. You could:

- Make cards with each grapheme, word and tricky word on. Hide them inside or outside and play 'Find the Grapheme/Words!'
- You could make two sets and play matching games such as 'Snap'.
- Play "Find me an object beginning with..." (similar to "I Spy...").
- Play 'Buzz the Grapheme/Word' when reading. Use the list of key graphemes/words in your child's book to read, and lay the corresponding flashcards out. When your child spots the grapheme/word, they 'buzz' the correct card, or put an object on top.
