Spring Term

Why do you think so many People go to the Mediterranean for their holiday?

Our learning Journey this term has been based around the Enquiry question on the previous slide.

To answer this question our focus was building on our mapping skills and researching the various countries

Monday 8th February

We are learning to use grid references to locate features on a map

We are learning to find boundaries of countries

We are learning about the different currencies used in the different Mediterranean countries

You must use the square containing the name of the country for your answers, when the answer is a country.

1. Give a grid reference for a country where the people use the currency, Lira? (10, 8) Turkey
2. In which grid references do people use the currency Euro? Spain (B, 3)
3. Which currency will people use who live in grid reference (B, 3)? Morocco (E, 8)
4. Give a grid reference for a country where the currency is the Syrian Pound? (10, 4)
5. In which grid reference do the people use the currency Franc? (E, 8)
6. If you cross the border to the East of France, (southern part of the border), which country would you be in? Italy
Name the currency Euro
7. Start in the country where people use the Dinar and travel West. Which country are you now? Morocco
Name the currency of this country Dirham
8. Start in the country where the currency is the Dirham and travel North through the Gibraltar Strait. What is the currency? Euro
Which country borders it to the West? Portugal
Explain why this country is not a Mediterranean country. The country does not border the Mediterranean Sea

Let's look at this map again.

- Which country borders Spain to the North? France
- Which country borders Italy to the West? France
- Look for the southern border of Turkey. Which country is this? Syria

On this map Algeria borders two countries. What are they? Morocco

Name the country that borders Libya to the West? Algeria

We are learning to use grid references to locate features on a map

"I really enjoyed learning about all the countries in the Mediterranean but my favourite country we researched was France because that is where Coco Chanel is from and I like her."

We also learned lots during Science week and how to be greener!

We carried out an experiment testing a range of materials to investigate which held the heat for the longest to conserve energy!

"One thing I enjoy most about Science week is we get to do experiments and we tested the temperature of water to see which would stay hottest"

- Olivia

We also learned about the rise and fall of fossil fuels for powering transport!

"I enjoyed Science week and learning about how cars work. Bertha Benz drove the very first car to her Mam's house to test it out. It was her husbands car Benz."

- Kailan

We looked into Katherine Johnson who was a female scientist that worked for Nasa & Year 3 found this extremely interesting!

Katherine Johnson

Katherine Johnson was an African American woman who was born in 1918. She was a brilliant mathematician and worked at NASA and was known as "computer".

When Katherine started working at NASA

Did you know that Katherine started working at NASA in 1952? Her nickname was computer because of her maths. She helped send John Glenn into orbit. Often NASA used her math and it worked, she helped thousands of people and companies. She even saved people lives. In 1970 a tank explosion happened on Apollo 13 and the crew were nearly abandoned in space but Katherine got them all back to safety.

Education

We know that Katherine Johnson graduated high school earlier than others her age. After high school graduation she went to college. Katherine graduated from West Virginia University with the highest honors possible: Summa Cum Laude. This meant that she was in the top 1% of high-achieving students. She was the only one of 3 Black women who was allowed to study at the university. Even though it was only white people, she proved African Americans could study too.

Childhood

Although Katherine Johnson was born in 1918 in a rural area, she was very intelligent and loved to learn. Her mother was a teacher and her father was a farmer. She was a very good student and was very smart. She was also very kind and helpful. She was a very good student and was very smart. She was also very kind and helpful. She was a very good student and was very smart. She was also very kind and helpful.

Celebrating Katherine's life

Katherine died at the age of 101 on February 24th 2020. Although Katherine's work wasn't always praised like it deserved to be it finally was in 2015 when Barack Obama awarded her with the Presidential Medal of Freedom. This is one of the highest awards. NASA posted that her legacy of excellence broke down racism and social barriers.

"Katherine Johnson work was fun and interesting. She worked for NASA and they used her like a computer because she was so clever."

- Oliver

In our Art and Design we looked into Coco Chanel

Coco Chanel

- She introduced pantsuits for women
- She was famous for the 'Little black dress'
- She made the most famous woman's perfume, Chanel no. 5

Chanel's mum died when she was young, so she had to live in an orphanage.

Olivia

Coco Chanel

"I think her (Coco Chanel) artwork and designs are amazing. I redrew her Logo and was really proud of it."

- Jacob

We practiced our sketching skills

*We built on some sewing skills
creating flowers
inspired by Coco Chanel*

"I really enjoyed sewing the flowers, it was quite hard but I persevered and my flower was really pretty."

- Ella

"I've not done sewing for a while so at first found it tricky but once I had done a few of the stitches I found it easy again and thought the end flower looked really nice."

- Maddison

Lastly, for poetry week we created our own Free Verse Poems (A poem with no rules)!
