Dear Parents,

Year 11 Examinations

As things currently stand, we are still awaiting further guidance from OFQUAL and the Department of Education for how your child's individual grades in each subject will be awarded. On the basis that we do not know what evidence will be required, we are going to assume that the practice exams that students have been asked to complete at home, may well be essential evidence. As such, we need them to take them seriously and give them their very best effort. Please follow the original instructions to send the completed exams back into school to enable the teachers to assess them. If your child has already started these exams and on this basis would like to start again please contact school via email to enquiries@burscoughprioryacademy.org stating which exam papers they require. We will arrange for you to collect them or for them to be posted out to you.

We are aware that some of our students were hoping to come in tomorrow to say goodbye to staff and fellow students. Please do not do this. Be assured that we will have a Leavers' Assembly and a Prom to see off the class of 2020 in style.

Please remember that your child's GCSE results were never the most important factor of their time with us at Burscough Priory Academy. More important are the many ways that they have grown and developed and the huge range of things they have learned which can never be examined. All of the staff at Burscough Priory Academy and Endeavour Learning Trust could not be more proud of them and we will be in touch with you soon.
