BURTON AGNES CE PRIMARY SCHOOL

Friday News

A Note from Mrs. Jameson

Welcome back! I hope that you all had an enjoyable half term and got to make the most of the fabulous weather that we experienced. It's hard to believe we are entering the final half term of this academic year. The children have come back refreshed and ready for the challenging and exciting learning we have planned for this half term.

We are continuing with our Whole School theme of 'Beyond my Window'. Don't forget you can find out what the children are learning about on the 'curriculum' page of our school website, where we have posted the overviews that we emailed to you at the beginning of the term. If you require any further information just ask your child's class teacher who will be more than happy to help.

This half term we are having a big push on how we present our work. If your child does any work at home, please try and encourage this too.

This week in school....

As always the children continue to impress me with their learning. I had the pleasure of spending time with children from each class this week who talked to me about their learning and shared their books with me. It is very clear that the children are learning and the knowledge and skills they are developing, is sticking. The children even recalled learning they had done in previous years and made connections. Very impressive.

This week Class 3 have been learning all about soil and carried out an investigation to separate the different layers in soil.

They were able to recall lots of facts about the properties of soil.

The children in Class 1 had an exciting start to the week when they found out that an alien space craft had crash landed in their classroom! The children have written letters to the alien and have invited him for a tea party!

The children in Class 2 have been telling me all about life in Victorian times and have lots of knowledge about wash day. They told me that it took a long time which is why we don't do our washing like that now. Personally, I still think it takes far too long!

Class 4 started the week with some problem solving tasks and team building activities to get them back in work mode ready for the remainder of the term. I enjoyed listening to some of the stories they have been working on this week. We certainly have some budding authors at Burton Agnes.

Staying safe in the sun

It has been a warm week this week. Here is a little reminder about how we can look after our children in school on hot sunny days.

We try our best to keep the children safe from the sun and provide them with shady areas wherever possible. Putting all day /8 hour sun cream on before your child comes to school and sending them with a hat is definitely the best course of action.

If you require children to reapply sun cream in school, then please send it in to school in a bottle with their name on (not spray ones please). We are unable to apply the sun cream for your child but will supervise if need be.

We are also happy for your child to wear sun glasses, but again please name them. We can't take any responsibility for loss or breakage.

Lost property

We have a growing collection of lost property in school. We are unable to reunite it with their owners as it doesn't have a name in it. Please can you check over the weekend that all items of clothing brought in to school are named. Thank you.

Pride and Presentation Awards

Each half term we select a pupil from each class who has made huge improvements with the presentation of their work or simply has outstanding presentation.

At the end of last half term, Ottilie, Reuben, Evelyn and Angel were all presented with the award and their fabulous work is on display in the school hall.
