BURTON AGNES CE PRIMARY SCHOOL

Friday News

A note from Mrs Jameson

It has been exactly three months since I last sent out a newsletter. I thought it was time to get back to something familiar once more now that we have some of our pupils back to school.

This week we welcomed back some of our children in nursery and reception and some children of our key workers. It is quite a different school to the one that we left behind in March with lots of new systems in place and an unbelievable amount of hand gel, hand wash and tissues around the building. However, all of the children returned with happy and bright smiling faces and have had a great week.

The staff have worked immensely hard to create welcoming environments for the children to return to, despite all of the restrictions we have in place and guidelines we have to follow. They have ensured that the first week back for our children has been a happy and positive one—the Burton Agnes spirit lives on.

Next week our numbers in school increase once more as we welcome back some of our year 1 learners. Please can parents make sure that they stick to their allocated pick up and drop off times and that you don't queue up before you need to. Please can I ask that you refresh yourselves with the procedures sent out a couple of weeks ago so that we are all familiar with what is expected so that we can keep everyone safe. This information can also be found on the newsletters page on our school website.

Power Cut

Many thanks to the parents of children due to be in school today for their understanding this morning when we had to close school due to a power failure. The school is still without power as I write (3pm) but the engineers are working hard to rectify it.

Summer Art Challenge

Thank you for all of the entries received for the Summer Art Challenge. Despite the weather not feeling one but summery this week we have had some cheerful and careful art work produced. Thank you to Maisie for her 'birds in a tree', Emma for her 'Dinosaurs on the beach', Sophie for her lock down beach and Isabella for her summer sunset scene. All will be receiving a certificate for their stunning work. It's not too late to send your entries in if you haven't yet done so.

Tower Challenge

Look at these fantastic towers. So creative and such fabulous ideas. Well done to you all.
