BURTON AGNES CE PRIMARY SCHOOL

Friday News

A note from Mrs Jameson

I hope that this week has brought added happiness to some of you as you have been able to open your home 'bubbles' a little wider to loved ones and you and the children have perhaps been able to give and receive a hug that has not been shared for a while.

This week we have opened school a little wider with some of our year 1 pupils returning to school. Although the Year 1 bubble is very small at the moment they have had a fabulous week and have been busy making rainbows for our school and community.

This week we also welcomed 3 new children to Burton Agnes, Hector in nursery and Arthur and Kit in Year 1. We hope they will be very happy with us at Burton Agnes.

Next week we welcome back to school our year 6 pupils. It will be lovely to reunite them and allow them to spend some time with each other, from a distance, before they move on to secondary school.

Now that some of our pupils have been in school for a couple of weeks please can we ask parents to remind the children of the rules in school in relation to handwashing and social distancing. For those children returning on Monday, again we ask that parents reinforce the hygiene and social distancing expectations. We are constantly reinforcing these throughout the school day but every reminder helps.

Learning Packs

In response to parental feedback we are now in a position to provide paper copies of the home learning.

We appreciate the lengths that you have all gone to in providing paper, ink and electricity over the past weeks to help facilitate the home learning. Now that school has partially reopened and we are not limited to essential journeys only, we will be providing paper home learning packs each week for those families that require them. If you have already let us know that you would like a pack, this request will carry over each week. If you haven't requested a pack and would like one for future weeks, please let phone school or email burtonagnes.head.primary@eastriding.gov.uk.

Summer Art Challenge

We have had some more fabulous entries for the summer art competition.

Well done to Amelia, Charlotte, Alfie, Henry and Millie who have all received certificates for their fabulous work.

Ring Ring!

Over the next week Mrs Grainger and Mrs Jameson will be giving your child a phone call home. This will be for pupils who are not back in school. We look forward to catching up with you.

Drop off and collection times for week beginning 22nd June 2020

For families who have siblings in school, we are now happy with our systems and we can admit both children in at the same time. Please can we stress, for social distancing purposes, that you do not arrive at school earlier than your time and queue up with children from different bubbles. Thank you

Help from the School Council

Mrs Young has a few of the school councillors in school now and they have been thinking how they can help children at home. May be they have some questions about what school is like now or they just want a chat. If this is the case, they are happy to receive emails via the school office burtonagnes.primary@eastriding.gov.uk which they will respond to. If there are any school councillors at home still that would like to get in touch too, feel free.

Please keep sending in your messages and photo. It is always lovely to hear from you and the children. Keep up the good work. It is truly appreciated.

Have a lovely weekend and stay safe everyone.

Here is the next Burton Agnes Challenge for you all. I am sure you have all been developing your baking skills lately. I know in the Jameson house have got pretty good at eating it too!

Please send your photos to burtonagnes.head.primary@eastriding.gov.uk.
