A Note from Mrs. Jameson

We have been dodging the rain showers this week at Burton Agnes but the down-pours have not dampened our spirits and as always we have engaged in a very busy and productive week of learning.

On Wednesday, all of the children in school took part in National Numeracy Day. The purpose of the day is to put number at the front of our minds and to help us all to understand just how important numbers are in our day to day lives. Giving learning a purpose and reason as to why we do it will support our learners to learn and feel confident about their maths.

Across the school a wide range of activities took place such as working out how much maths was involved in baking a bun (and sharing them out!), making maths games, planning a party and sticking to a budget, creating maps using grid references and using shapes and compasses to create wall paper. ## Class 3 Visit St Martin's Church

For the first time in a long time the children in Class 3 were able to go out on an educational visit this week. The children were really excited to be able to visit St Martins Church in Burton Agnes to support their learning in RE. We were very grateful that Rev'd Townsend was able to join us and share his expert knowledge about the features of the church with our children. Educational visits out of school and visitors to school really help to bring our learning alive. Its great that we are beginning to resume these once more.

Drifffield Show 2021

We are very aware that many of you may wish to attend Drifffield Show this year. Drifffield show is an important part of our school community. This year the event will be running over two days, 21st and 22nd July, to try and make the event a Covid 19 secure event. If you would like to attend with your child, they can take one day out of school and you must show proof of a purchased ticket. This information must be shared with the school office. The local authority has agreed that as this is part of the local promotion of Modern British Values an exception can be made and the absence can be authorised. We are not able to do the same for the Yorkshire Show. As well as this information, a separate letter will be sent out with a reply slip.

Don't forget that school is closed on Friday 28th May as it is a staff training day

Please do not park on the zig zags or use it to drop off your children. Thank you

Don't forget that we are still required to wear face coverings on the playground for the time being. Thank you
