A note from Mrs Jameson

Over the past couple of weeks some of the classes at Burton Agnes have been enriching the history curriculum by tapping in to specialist services. On Tuesday the children in class 2 had a visit from Florence Nightingale. Florence came to help the children to travel back in time and learn about the significant impact that she had on our world today. It was lovely to see the children dressed up as Victorians and working with such interest and enthusiasm.

Class 4 have also been busy enriching their learning about History by visiting the Hands on History Museum in Hull to learn more about the Ancient Egyptians. The children had fantastic experiences learning about mummification and all things Egyptian. Thank you to everyone for supporting these visits. They allow children to access artifacts, specialist knowledge and experiences that we are not always able to recreate in school.

The Year 5 and 6 team completely took control of every match they played. Their skills and experience shone through, winning every match in the group and bringing home a trophy.

It was a pleasure to go along and support this event and may thanks to the fabulous turn out from parents in the pouring rain.
