Our eldest pupils have carried out their end of Primary School assessments this week. Their attitudes towards these tests have impressed us all. Quite rightly, we have witnessed no nerves or anxiety, instead there has been an air of pride around our school. The children have risen to the challenge and have enjoyed the opportunity to show off their abilities. We now must wait for the results which usually are shared at the beginning of July. Our Year Two pupils are to have their assessments take place next week. Again, these will be carried out with the minimum of upheaval to their learning.

Other news:

Our Year Four children are learning the flutes still and are playing well. They would like to show off their skills to their parents on the 5th July at 14:00. Our Cheerios enjoyed performing their exhilarating act to the school today, wearing their fabulous new kit which has been kindly provided by our PTFA.

Our newly made bookcases are to be painted over this weekend, so we look forward to our reorganisation of the school library. Any volunteers would be greatly welcomed during the first week back after the half term holidays.

Thank you for your continued support in and out of school, Susan McGrath, Headteacher and Sapphire Murray, Deputy Headteacher.
