This week has seen the children in our Little Chicks and Ducklings performing their wonderful Nativity called the Sleepy Shepherd. The children did really well performing in school and in front of family. Then our infants took to the stage. Again, they made me feel very proud. They spoke their lines and performed their dances really well and did not seem fazed by having a large audience.

The choir enjoyed a frosty walk to and from Poulton Library where they sang carols beautifully to an audience.

Staff at Carleton Green update:

Mr Fish has been successful in securing a new job and will not be returning in January. We wish him all the very best of luck. Miss Savage will be the point of contact for all school matters from now on. Miss Howell has also successfully completed her teacher training. We hope she has a successful and happy career in teaching.

Lola has been performing in this year's Pantomime at The Grand theatre. Mr Boyd took the opportunity to go and see the panto on Saturday night and was so proud of how Lola performed. To remember all the dance routines amongst costume changes and interacting with the other actors was rather impressive. However, he was slightly embarrassed when Steve Royale gave him a 'shout out' during the show! If you haven't been to see it yet there's still time to get along before the start of January! Well done again Lola.

Please save your sweet wrappers this Christmas— our Eco Committee will need them for January.

Clive has been causing havoc on Cypress Point in St. Annes after flying himself there from Fairhaven Lake this week. He has spent most of his time there on his favourite place, the roundabout 🚧, which is far too dangerous for him and so we have attended tonight to move him to secure housing to wild him up with other young swans and keep him safe over the winter. It was a 2 hour, 30 mile round trip for us with the traffic!

This is Clive's third transport journey with us, he must be like 'oh no, my parents are here again' each time he sees us turn up to rescue him again and spoil his (albeit dangerous) fun! 😂

We think his time at the school may have tamed him a little too much and he needs to remember how to be a swan with other swans 🦢 swan food is very costly for sanctuaries and rescues at £28 a bag so if anyone would like to send Clive a bag for Christmas you are welcome to order it over the phone via Sudells & Co animal feed merchant on 01253 392171 quoting 'Brambles Wildlife Rescue' and we will arrange the delivery to Clive 📺
thank you to Irene at Swans Rest for accommodating him 🦢
🦢 Here he is joining some new friends this evening ❤️
