

School/Home Learning Ideas
Week 12 EYFS and Year 1 Theme: Moving on Up

The inspiration, and some of the resources, for this theme have come from Whittlefield Primary's Transition Pack
Thank you Whittlefield, Burnley for sharing your ideas ☺

Reading for Fun

Read this new fable called The Crow and the Peacock (You may need an adult to sign up).

There are some activities about this text below.

Self Portrait

Create a self-portrait for your new teacher.

Try an unusual style...

Arcimboldo used fruit and veg. Or you could do a portrait in the style of Van Gogh, Picasso or Warhol.

Friend Fact File

Your new teacher may want to know who your friends are. Draw a picture of each friend and write about their best qualities.

Thank You

Make a thank you card for your teacher.

Tell your teacher what you have enjoyed this year.

What was the best or funniest moment of the year?

What will you miss?

Map Your Way

Draw a map of things you see on your way to school.

Are there any important buildings that you pass? Do you see any interesting things on houses like an outside clock or a fancy gate?

Celebration board...

What should be put on the celebration board next year? Excellent work, behaviour and good listening are just some examples.

Favourite Book Review

What is your favourite book or story?

Write a book review of your favourite book or story. Try to persuade someone else to read it.

- Draw a picture of your favourite part.
- List all the characters.

What have you done this year to make you feel proud?

Write the things you have learned that you are proud of in the medal on the sheet below. Maybe you have learned to ride your bike without stabilisers or can read a book without any help now.

Worry Jar

You might have worries about starting a new class.

Don't let them bug you.

Tell someone. Write them down. Then seal them in a jar / box.

10 Things in a Teacher's Pocket

Ian Mcmillan wrote a poem called "10 Things Found in a Wizard's Pocket". Write a list of what you might find in a teacher's pocket...

A real teacher might have... Six sparkly 'Well Done' stickers, An old sweet covered in fluff...

A teacher with super-powers might have... Silencing sprinkles for noisy children, 3 lightning-fast tidy-up fairies, smiles to brighten a dull maths lesson...

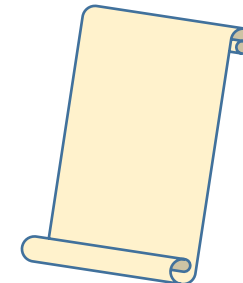

Marvellous Me

Draw around yourself in chalk on the floor or on a large piece of paper (or use the outline in the pack). Write down all the lovely things that make up marvellous you inside the outline.

Class Charter / Code

Write a charter for next year. It's not a set of class rules, but the good ways to learn and behave.

Take a white piece of paper. Use an old, COLD teabag to make the paper look old like parchment.

Butcher, Baker or Candlestick Maker?

Plan next year's role play areas in your new class.

Which areas have you enjoyed learning in this year?

Which types of shop could there be? Which types of vehicle?

Top Learner Card

What are you like as a learner... do you work well with others, are you good at asking for help?

How could you be a better learner?

Design Learner Island

School is somewhere we go to learn.

Imagine an island we could visit to help us learn. Draw or make a model of your island. Add labels.

What would it have?

Would the books grow on trees?

Would it always be sunny so that you can learn outside?

Would there be greenhouses to help you grow plants?

Would experts come and visit?

Shield of Interests

Draw a shield to show your interests.

What will you draw... your family, pets, hobbies...

Report

Write your own end of year report.

How do you think you have done?

What do you think you can do better next term?

The School Day

You will have to think back to when we were at school in March. How did you spend your normal day?

Can you create a visual timetable to share what you get up to? This is a great way of telling your new teacher what you enjoy doing in your spare time.
