

Flashback Jasmin (Year 11)

Flashback to the time when things were all bad
When we were stuck inside and it made everyone sad
We couldn't go out with our friends
Or meet in more than tens

Toilet roll was in high demand
And large gatherings had been banned
We couldn't see our family and give them a hug
FaceTime was now the new norm
And no one was there to see your new baby just born

Children had to play on their own
While mummies and daddies struggled to pay for their home
But Flashback to the time when words were everything
Where people could call and talk about anything
Asking people you don't know if they're feeling okay
And when we clapped for key workers on that one special day

Teaching kids from home And Spending hours on your phone
Flashback to the time when everything was on pause
But we all came together to help this one cause
People ran to raise money and sang to bring cheer
And tried to show everyone there's nothing wrong with fear

Flashback to the time when things were all bad
But we all came together to make sure no one was sad
We stayed indoors and shopped on our own
We even stopped working and had to take loans

This was a time we should never forget,
An unfortunate event that came as a threat
It taught us to love and take what we have.

A time when life is precious try not to be sad
So Flashback to the Time when things were all bad
And try to never forget what we had.
