Dear parent or carer,

As we prepare to return to school, it would be a good idea to check that your child's uniform still fits. I know that my own children have had growth spurts and their trousers are too short and their shoes too small. Whilst I would prefer to go to the shops and buy new uniform, this is not an option as shops are not open yet. However, uniform can be bought online and delivered to home addresses. I know that it's not an ideal situation, particularly when it comes to buying shoes online. However, shoes can be easily bought from the supermarket for the time being, before you can get your child's foot size checked and shoes fitted in a shoe shop. I am also going to 'hand down' my older child's blazer to his younger sibling. All other outgrown uniform is going to be cleaned and donated to the school uniform hub.

The uniform hub has a selection of shirts, trousers, skirts, blazers, shoes and some PE kit. All these are available to borrow, or in some cases, they are given to pupils and families.

We appreciate that these are difficult times but our high expectations on uniform remain the same. We want to work with our families in making sure that our pupils look smart and are ready for school, so please let us know if you are struggling with uniform issues, and we will look to resolve the problem with you. In the meantime, please read the FAQs and answers below.

Where can I get school uniform with the school logo?

You can order online from Uniform and Leisurewear, and then pick-up from the shop on Common Garden Street at an agreed date/time.

On their website they say, 'During this difficult time, we understand that ordering online may mean that customers are not getting the correct sizes that they need for their children. Please can we ask all customers who need to exchange items to email their relevant shops email address with their order number, name and what sizes they would like to exchange.'
