Headteacher's Comment

I hope this newsletter finds you well as we wrap up another busy and exciting week at school!

We are thrilled to announce that the Reception outdoor project has been completed! Thank you so much to all Reception parents for your patience during the works - it is much appreciated. From Monday all drop off and collection will be as normal. We cannot wait for the children to explore and enjoy the area next week. This will provide wonderful opportunities for learning, exploration and play, further enhancing the children's outdoor experiences.

It was lovely to welcome so many families to our Year 1 learning workshop this week. We hope you found this supportive in finding out more about Reading, Phonics and how to support your child at home. If you were unable to attend the information from the evening will be shared on the school website.

Next week, we have something very special planned for the entire school. All children will be participating in mini first aid training sessions. This is a fantastic opportunity for them to learn basic first aid skills in a fun and interactive way, helping to build their confidence and understanding of how to respond to situations safely. This training is progressive from Reception to Year 6 learning the basics, like putting on plasters, to life saving skills further up the school.

We also have our Open Evening on Wednesday 9th October (see more information attached) for children starting school in September 2025. We look forward to welcoming existing families with younger children starting next year and meeting new families too! If you know any families with children due to start next year, please share the details with them.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend,

Mrs L Tottie

Headteacher

Harvest Festival

Next week, children at Chapelford Primary School will kick off Harvest Week with an engaging assembly led by Mrs. Tickle, the school's RE lead. The aim of this week is to deepen the children's understanding of Harvest, exploring its significance, the reasons for celebration, and how various communities across the country recognise this important season.

Harvest is a time when crops are cut and collected from the fields, marking the culmination of a year's hard work in agriculture. During this week, the children will learn about the entire lifecycle of crops— from planting seeds and bulbs to harvesting the food when it's ready.

In the assembly, Mrs. Tickle will introduce pupils to the cultural and historical significance of Harvest, and will explore themes of gratitude and community. "It's essential for children to understand not just the celebration, but the entire process of how food makes its way from the soil to our tables," she said.

Throughout the week, pupils will engage in hands-on activities, including planting seeds and bulbs in the school's new polytunnel, which has been set up on the field. This interactive experience will allow them to witness firsthand how different vegetables grow and the care that goes into nurturing them.

"We hope this week will not only teach the children about the significance of Harvest but also foster a sense of responsibility and respect for where our food comes from," added Mrs Tickle.

As part of Chapelford Primary School's Harvest Week celebrations, members of the school council will be collecting food items donated by children and their families to support Warrington Foodbank. This initiative not only aligns with the spirit of Harvest but also teaches children the importance of community support and empathy for those in need.

The school council encourages families to contribute non-perishable food items, with a complete list of needed donations available on the school's Facebook page. "We believe it's crucial for our children to understand the impact they can have on their community," said Mrs Tickle. "This initiative helps them see how small acts of kindness can make a big difference."

Families are encouraged to participate in this meaningful initiative, and any donations are greatly appreciated. Together, the Chapelford Primary School community can make a difference during this special time of year. We look forward to sharing pictures and videos of the week with you via our school website and Facebook page.

You will be able to review items in there and collect any that belong to your child.

Any items that are clearly labeled are always given back to the child in the first instance, so please try to write your child's name on their items of clothing and other belongings (eg water bottle, lunch box).
