This week has been filled with valuable learning experiences that extend far beyond our classroom walls. I wanted to share some of the exciting activities our pupils have been engaged in, as they demonstrate our commitment to providing a well-rounded and enriching education.

On Monday, many of our pupils took part in an online assembly alongside schools right across the country. The focus was on allergies and how we can all work together to create a safe and inclusive environment for everyone in our school community. These sessions are particularly important as they help our young people understand the needs of their peers and develop empathy and awareness from an early age. It was wonderful to see so many of our pupils engaged and thoughtful during this shared learning experience.

Today, our Year 1 pupils enjoyed a visit to the Museum of the Home. This trip provided them with the opportunity to explore and learn about domestic life, history, and how people live, all of which complements their learning in school in a really meaningful way. Visits like these bring learning to life and create lasting memories for our pupils.

Earlier this week, Year 2 embarked on an exciting trip as part of their London topic. The pupils had the chance to experience different modes of transport around our capital city, travelling by bus, tube, and boat. This hands-on experience allows them to develop geographical knowledge and understanding in a practical way, whilst also building their confidence and independence as young learners. It was a fantastic opportunity for them to see London as a living, breathing place of study.
