This has been a very busy week at school yet again. The week started off with parents' evenings, which were really attended, so thank you all for taking the time to come and speak to the teachers.

On Tuesday, Amanda took a group of Y1 pupils to the Osmani Trust Centre, where they were having their first practise for a brass instruments concert later in the year.

On Thursday, Year 1 went on an amazing space adventure to The Royal Observatory in Greenwich. They met an awesome space teddy called Ted and his plant, who showed them around all the 8 planets in his rocket-ship. They ended the day with an exciting workshop learning about the four different seasons. They had a fantastic time and are very thankful for the parent/carer helpers who supported on the day.

Today we had our first class assembly of the year and what a treat that was. Crossbills took us on a tour of crime and punishment through the ages. I think that all of the children enjoyed the descriptions of some gruesome punishments from the past. Their adaption of the song 'Blinded by the Light' was a real hit. Well done Crossbills.

We are currently looking to recruit a member of staff for Night Owls, as one of our current workers has resigned. We need someone to work on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday after school from 3:30 to 5:30. Some experience of working in a childcare setting, a level 3 Early Years qualification or paediatric first aid would be all be desirable but are not essential, If you are interested in applying for this post please email Kim: bookings@chisenhale.towerhamlets.sch.uk
