Learning Together for a Better Future

11/2/22

Hello and welcome back after the half-term break,

I hope the storms were not too disruptive. We only lost a roof panel and the shutters in the EYFS were damaged, so I think we were lucky.

There has been a buzz around the school as the Governors have been recruiting the new Headteacher. The children were very much part of the process. Some children had the candidates in observing a lesson, others were part of the Rights Respecting Counsellors interview panel, Reception had story-time with the candidates and some children took part in an assembly. I would like to thank staff, children and the Governors for working so hard on the process. The governors will be writing to parents in due course to let them know the outcome.

The staff made plans for science week in their staff meeting and we are preparing for a great World Book Day next Thursday. Don't forget to dress up and bring your pennies for the book sale after school - you can drop off any books for the sale at the school office. Here's hoping for a less stormy weekend,

Sharon

BOOK SALE!

After school on World Book Day.
Thur Mar 3rd.

Any books/puzzles/board games to donate? Bring them to the school office. Adult ones too! If not, come with cash and snag some new reads.

We will be celebrating World Book Day on Thursday 3rd March!

All children are invited to dress up as a book character of their choice on this day. There are some good ideas on the website <https://www.worldbookday.com/dressing-up-ideas/>

We will be celebrating their outfits in class and with their year groups. During the day, the classes will have a range of exciting activities linked to developing the children's love of reading, and to the World Book Day message 'You are a reader!' This will include creating a class video to promote reading which we will share on Google Classroom for the other children to watch.
