

7.3.2025

On Tuesday, Year 1 enjoyed visiting the Soanes Centre, where they took part in the 'Litterbugs' workshop. The children learnt about nature's recyclers before going on a minibeast hunt around the grounds. They even found a very long worm and wondered if it could be 'Superworm'?

Speaking of Superworm, World Book Day was back again with a kapow! So many year groups enjoyed the multitude of activities put on by their teachers as well as some fun extras along the way. The parade was such a wonderful way to kick-start the day with a fabulous walk around the block in the sunshine. Every year group had the opportunity to visit our local bookshop, Bard Books, and spend those wonderful World Book Day Vouchers - a huge thank you to Bard Books for accommodating us! Most classes took part in an online lesson and it was so lovely to do these on the actual day. The staff created a "who's that reader" quiz where the children had to not only guess which adult was reading but what book they were reading, and some were definitely trickier than others. A full World Book Day Chatter will be coming out next week to fill you in with a bit more detail for each class but it is safe to say that A LOT of reading and celebrating books was done yesterday!

Today was Swift class assembly. It was based on Macbeth but was a modern interpretation set in East London, mixed with songs from Wicked. The performances were outstanding, so well done to the whole class for their hard work.

We previously sent out a survey to help us find out your views about your child attending a free breakfast club and to help us with planning our new provision. We would really appreciate if you could do this by Tuesday 11th March, as we have now fixed the glitch in the survey:
