

Dear Students,

Well done for proving to us how independent, resilient and hardworking you are. We have been incredibly impressed with your engagement with your learning over the last two weeks and want to say how proud we all feel to be your teachers.

You will be happy to know that the next two weeks are officially the Easter holidays so we will not be setting online learning via Doddle. We have, however, put together a series of Easter 'passion projects' you can work on during this time of isolation if you wish. We would absolutely love to see some of the completed projects over the next couple of weeks and wanted to let you know how to share them with us. If you take photos of them and tag us at @chorltonhighschool in the pictures on Instagram, using the hashtag #ProudCHS, we will see them and share as many of them as we can. If you are not on the social media site, you can also email us using the following email address: proud@chorltonhigh.org.uk. We can't wait to see them.

We have also started up a school YouTube channel which is continuously being updated with new content. We would love for you to check it out. Please be advised that this is just the start of what will be available. The channel can be found searching Chorlton High School or using the following link: <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCveVA560FkaYWM8G5DfBf2Q>

As we let you know last week, we will be making changes to how distance learning will work after the Easter holidays and we wanted to let you know that during the final week of the Easter holidays that we will update you with the information you need to be successful with this.

We understand that the sudden change in your day to day routine will have come as a shock to you and it may have been difficult adjusting. We want you to know that we are still here for you if you are worried or need support. You can ring school between 9am and 3pm every week day and ask to speak to one of the Safeguarding Team or email us on this address staysafe@chorltonhigh.manchester.sch.uk. For other places you can go for help, see the separate 'Be Safe' sheet.

Wellbeing Easter Bingo

We will post out a copy of the Easter Bingo challenge we also want you to complete. Please complete all 12 tasks, get them signed off by your parents and bring the card back to school on our return and your name will go into a draw for a lucrative prize.

Year group assemblies

Yes, you read that right, we have recorded year group assemblies where you will receive some really important messages and see some very familiar faces. You can access these assemblies by searching Chorlton High School Pastoral on YouTube. Stay safe and well.
