

Friday 2nd December 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

Over the coming week, we will be sharing with students some information regarding progress tests, which will take place between Monday 16th January and Friday 27th January. Students should use the next two weeks and the two weeks after the Christmas break to get themselves prepared.

Next week, students will receive a Home Study booklet that will include a test timetable (that they need to fill in), a study planner to help them organise their home study, revision lists, and key vocabulary that they need to know in each subject. Students will be receiving support and information in assemblies, lessons and form time on how to hone their home study habits.

To support you with this, we want to share our student walkthrough which we have been using to guide students through effective home study habits. Please click on the link below.

<https://www.chorltonhigh.manchester.sch.uk/student-life/home-learning>

Next week, we will share the study booklet with you, along with another video tutorial on how to use the booklet to practice good study habits and to effectively prepare for the Progress Tests.

Kind regards,
Chorlton High School