Thursday

IALT: plan a saga

PERFECTLY PUNCTUATE:

Isla was wounded but she smiled.

This small girl has beaten the most mighty shieldmaiden in all the land.

With that isla dropped to the ground.

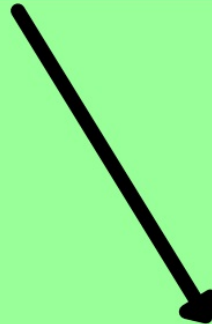

I can continue with my planning.

Start to use features to help me describe.

Make sure I know all my Viking Vocab.

I can plan for my Saga.

Task 1:

1.) Have a look at your plan now, is there anything you would like to change about your character and your story?
Are you happy with the ending?

Now we have our characters and our story line sorted, we need to look at the setting and the small details around the story line.

Have a think of these questions:

What is my character dressed like?

What is the weather like?

How is my character feeling?

How is my character walking?

Is the weather being affected by the mood of the characters?

I am going to add detail to my setting:

Draw a picture of your setting and describe it.

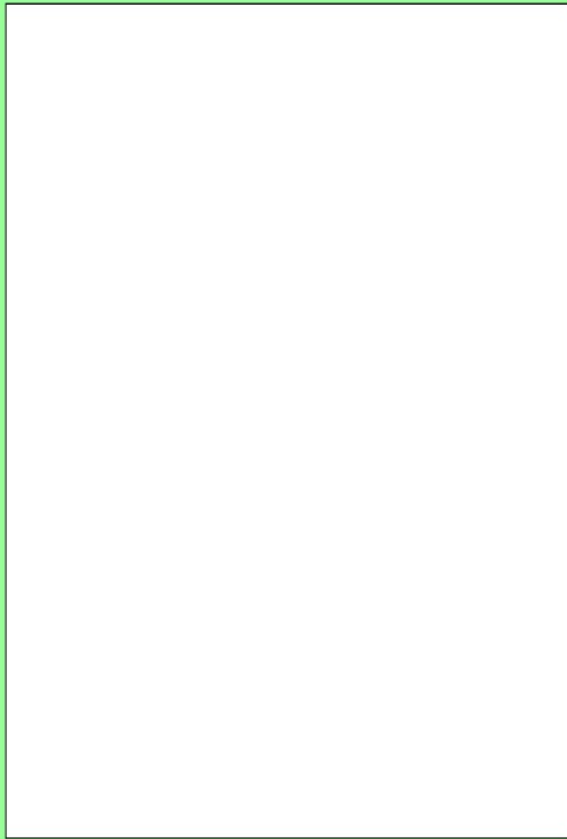

It was a gloomy, dark day.

The clouds seemed to darken with every step Isla took.

It was as if the Sky knew this was Isla's final day.

I am going to add detail to my character:

Draw a picture of your character and describe it.

Isla fur cape felt soft on her old wrinkly skin.

The cold, steel sword swung from Isla's animal skin belt.

Isla's boots glided through the mud like ice skates on ice.

Create a story map of the Saga.
