

Curriculum Intent

History

At Clarendon Infants School we believe that history teaching gives children the chance to ask questions and to find out about their own past, that of people they know and that of significant events, periods and people in our country and beyond. We want children to learn to compare and contrast as well as use appropriate vocabulary when they are talking about the past to prepare them for their future history learning. We want them to learn about the history of Tidworth and the surrounding area as well as the history of the UK so that they are inspired to be interested in the past and its people and to want to find out more about it.

We aim to provide children with access to high quality books and artefacts to aid their research skills. We want them to experience trips to the local area and further afield and also in school events to make their experience of history a hands on one and to give them plenty of wow moments. We would like the children to be able to communicate their knowledge and skills in a wide variety of ways – ICT, drawing, discussion and drama for example. Our hope is that these skills, knowledge and experiences will give them a passion for history and to inspire them for the rest of their lives.
