Kasper Prince of Cats by Michael Morpurgo

Kasper Prince of cats by Michael Morpurgo is my favourite book so far. The main character is Johnny Trott. He is a brave and adventurous young bell boy.

When the Countess Kandinsky suddenly dies it is up to Johnny Trott to look after the finest cat in London, Prince Kasper Kandinsky, prince of cats. But little do they know they're about to experience something much, much worse.

This is my favourite book as it shows the love between animal and man. I think boys and girls of young ages would love this book because it includes features about the Titanic in the story.

So, will Johnny and Kasper get through this tough journey... you'll have to read to find out....
