Leadership Message

It's been another productive week here at Conway, and I've been pleased to see the positive behaviour and focused attitudes our pupils have shown around the school. From the concentration in lessons to the general respect shown during playtimes, it's clear that our pupils are contributing to a positive learning environment. It's always great to see them being so positive in their learning and with each other. Thank you for your continued support in building this positive community.

On the subject of school life, I'm pleased to announce that our next Attendance League competition has started. Last term, 5J showed excellent dedication to their attendance, earning them a well-deserved cinema trip. This term, we have another appealing prize on offer for the top two classes: an exclusive 'Lego Day' in school. This will be a chance for creative building and imaginative play for the winning classes. As always, every day in school is important for learning, so please do continue to support your child and their class by ensuring they are here, on time, and ready to engage. We look forward to seeing which classes rise to the challenge this term!

Finally, I want to express my thanks to our staff team, who work hard to provide a range of valuable experiences for our children. Already this term, we've had visits to the Lapworth Museum and a memorable encounter with the Animal Man, sparking curiosity and engagement across various year groups. Looking ahead, next week sees Year 6 visiting the Staffordshire Military Museum, while Year 4 will be linking their 'Iron Man' topic with a visit to a local scrap yard, offering some practical, real-world learning. We also have more planned for the year, including trips to Harry Potter World, Weston-Super-Mare, and an activity residential day at Woodlands. These opportunities certainly enrich our curriculum and create lasting memories, and they are a testament to the dedication of our team. Thank you for all you do.

Film, TV and Game Certifications

Adhering to film and TV certifications is really important because it helps keep everyone safe and comfortable when choosing what to watch and what to play. These age ratings are created to guide families and teachers by showing which films and programmes are suitable for different ages. For example, some content may include scenes that are too scary, confusing, or grown-up for younger viewers. By following the certifications, children can enjoy shows and games that are fun, understandable, and appropriate for their stage of development. It also helps adults make confident decisions about what to watch and play together as a family. Learning to check age ratings encourages children to become responsible viewers who think carefully about what they choose. When we respect these guidelines, we help make watching and playing a positive experience for everyone, ensuring stories in films, TV and in games inspire, entertain, and teach us in a safe and supportive way.
