

From The Headteachers

All Saints Day

The children attended Mass on Thursday 1st November to celebrate All Saints Day. Fr. Adrian celebrated Mass and we were joined by many parishioners. Class 13 prepared the readings and the school choir led the singing.

Remembrance

Next weekend is Remembrance Sunday and the children will pay tribute during Class 7's Assembly next Friday to all who have died in conflicts across the world. Poppies are on sale at the school office with all donations gratefully received on behalf of The Royal British Legion.

Pupil Survey

During July 2018 the junior children took part in a pupil survey and answered 12 questions about their schooling and how they felt at school. The children were also given an opportunity to make suggestions for changes. There were over 200 responses and the children are really positive about their school. 98% of children enjoy coming to school and 100% of children feel safe at school. It was noteworthy that 86% of children had taken part in after school activities and 67% are learning a musical instrument. A more detailed analysis of the results will be presented to school and the School Council in relation to suggestions the children made where we will be working to enrich the children's playground experience.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Anti-Idling event

There will be an vehicle anti idling event at Corpus Christi School on Tuesday 6th November from 2pm. We have recruited an enthusiastic team of volunteers who are part of this innovative, education and behaviour change campaign to reduce localised car pollution and improve air quality in our residential and work place community. A group of children will also be playing a 'giant anti idling' snakes and ladders game in the junior playground where the children think about the choices they make and how they impact air quality.

Alone At Home

A new Channel 4 documentary explores what children would get up to if left to their own devices in 'Alone at Home'. In this new four part series, one family a week will leave their children home alone for four days and nights. The children can then do whatever they want, watched over by remote cameras and a film crew not too far away. The series begins on Friday 9th November at 8pm. An episode featuring the Mitchiners, a Corpus Christi family, is aired on Friday 23rd November. Lets see how well the four boys cope when given the challenge of managing themselves.
