

Tales on Moon Lane

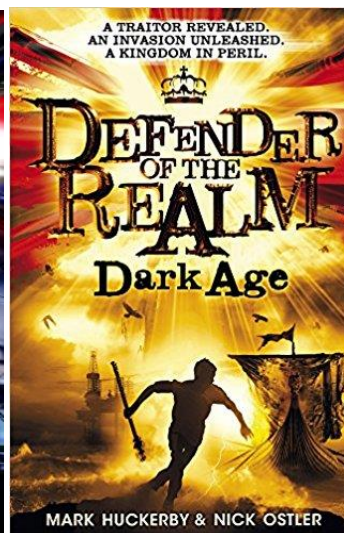

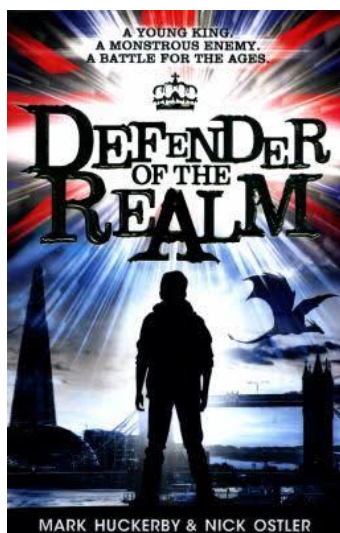

London Independent Bookshop of the Year 2017

Tales On Moon Lane are thrilled to announce Mark Huckerby and Nick Ostler will be at Corpus Christi on Wednesday 11 October to talk about their book series Defender of the Realm.

What if ancient myths are not myths after all, and monsters and magic are real?

Alfie is heir to the throne, but at fourteen, he's still trying to survive school. When an ancient enemy tries to seize power, he learns that becoming king means much more than he ever imagined: Alfie must also become the Defender.

The Defender of the Realm books will be on sale at £6.99 after the event and Mark and Nick will be happy to sign children's copies.

Please bring cash or a cheque made out to 'Tales on Moon Lane', and indicate in the box below which books your child would like:
