

Thursday 5th January 2017

Dear Parent(s) and carers,

Happy New Year! I hope you all had a lovely break.

On Thursday 12th January we have a Speech and Language therapist coming in to visit us from Lambeth. She has offered to run a session for parents and carers about how to support children's communication at home. This session will be held in the music room at 2pm and will be very informal. She aims to talk for about 30 minutes and then there will be an opportunity to ask questions and get advice on Speech and Language services.

Please note that this is not the private Speech and Language therapist who the school employs, so she will be unable to comment on individual children but she will be able to give general advice and guidance.

If you have any questions about the session or would like more information, please feel free to email me at zbray@corpuschristi.lambeth.sch.uk

Many thanks.

Yours sincerely,
