 Reception Class - a few seconds ago

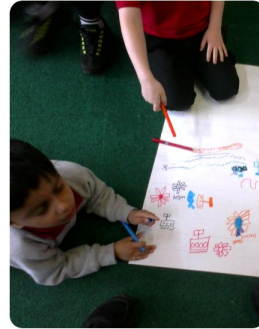

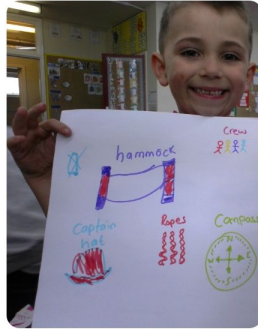

Hallie was at the craft table this morning using the different junk modelling items, placing things inside and sticking them together.

I asked Hallie what she had created and she told me it was a box of things for people who needed them. She told me that there were things for cleaning your ears and there was cake. Hallie, this was such a lovely, thoughtful thing to create. You have shown kindness, friendship and hope with this craft. Well done!
